

We can assist you...

The InfoConsult team has more than 20 years of experience in the preparation and submission of successful proposals for European cooperation projects.

We offer a complete service portfolio to accompany you during all stages of the life cycle of your project, from your initial idea through to exploitation of the results.

Based on our experience in the current and in former Framework Programmes of the European Commission as well as in regional European-funded programmes, we have developed efficient and high-quality processes to support you both in setting up your project and in managing it in the later stages.

We organise your knowledge

European project management services

Transforming your idea into a promising project

Developing your idea

Good preparation is essential for writing a successful application. We assist you in defining the project and in integrating it into the strategy of your organisation, and by identifying the appropriate EU-funded programme.

We assist you in coordinating the work to write the proposal and in developing an appropriate management structure as well as an effective dissemination and exploitation strategy.

Setting up the consortium

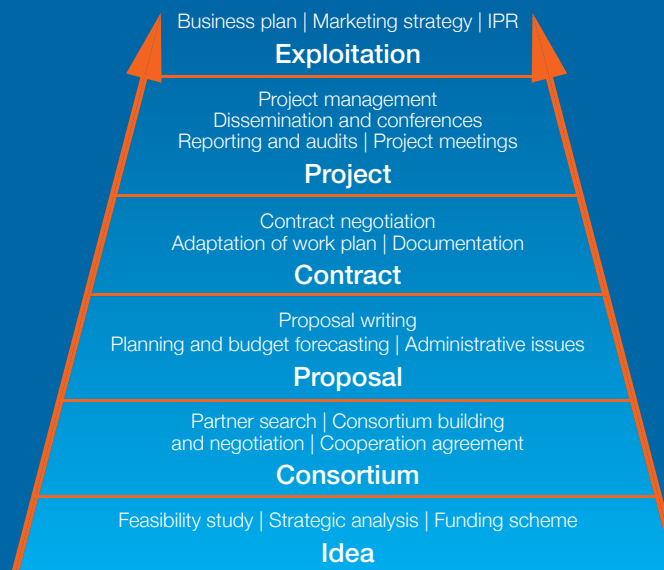

InfoConsult's experts support you in planning the consortium. We assist you in identifying the most suitable partnerships and in bringing together relevant stakeholders. The content and structure of your bid need to be reflected in the consortium and in its organisational structure. Our staff can coordinate the content of the proposal and assist you in drafting the consortium agreement.

Positioning your project

Our team takes care of the fine tuning of the proposal, consistency checks, matching the administrative requirements and the submission of your bid. We also support you in establishing contacts with the responsible programme manager and assist you during the negotiation phase.

Managing your project

We support you with professional project management services, allowing you to focus on your content activities. We offer services tailored to your specific requirements, including project administration and logistics, work plan monitoring and reporting, and financial management. We take care of organising internal meetings as well as public events such as workshops, seminars and conferences. We provide access to and maintain tools for communication, project archiving, dissemination actions, and legal and auditing services.

From project idea to exploitation of project results
